Scrotula and Scrotulous Affections, such as Tumors, Utcers, Sores, Exuptions, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Blains, and all Skin Diseases.

J. C. Ayer & Co. Genies: I feel it my duty to acknowledge what your Sarsaparilla has done for me. Having inherited a Scrotulous infection, I have suffered from it in various ways for years. Sometimes it turned inward and distressed me at the stomach. Two years ago it broke out on my head at was painful and loathsome beyond description. It ried many medicines and several physicians, but without much relief from anything. In fact, the disorder grew worse. At length I was rejoiced to read in the Gospel Messenger that you had prepared an alterative (Sarsaparilla), for I knew from your reputation that anything you made must be good. I sent to Cincinnati and got it, and used it till it cured me. I took it, as you advise, in small doses of a toaspoonful over a month, and used almost three bottles. New and healthy skin soon began to form under the sad, which after a while fell off. My skin is now clear, and I know by my feelings that the disease has gone from my system. You can well believe that I feel what I am saying when I tell you, that I hold you to be one of the spostes of the age, and remain ever gratefully.

By the Estimates for the current year, which have just come to hand, we are gratified to observe a very considerable reduction in the amount asked to defray the expenses of the Government. Where last year, under the "able financial management" of Mr. Birch, $701,000 were asked and voted, Mr Young this year only requests a trifle over $572,000, and estimates the probable revenue at $576,-500, showing a surplus of upwards of $4,000. In the same document it appears that while in 1866 the revenue reached $437,018, the expenditure exceeded that figure by nearly $200,000, being in round numbers $613,700-an alarming deficit. How far the revenue of 1867 fell short of the expenditure is not known, but the deficit will probably reach $200,000. A feature worthy of notice in the Estimates before us is the fact that where last year $212,000 were required to meet bonds, interest and sinking fund, the amount asked for now is but $190,-000. The Chil List rome as at nearly the same figure as before, while we regret to observe that for Roads, Streets and Bridges only $50,000, and for Education only $6,000, are asked. These important interests of the Colony, most requiring the fostering care of the Government, are left in a languishing condition, and at the same time we observe that the brigade of clerks considered indispensable last year are continued in the Estimates before us. We have no time to day for a critical examination of the document, but shall endeavor to do it full justice tomorrow. We would remark, however, that the system which obtains in this Colony of withholding the actual expenditure for the year next preceding the current year is a bad one. In the Eastern

Provinces the custom is to submit a state ment of the expenditure for at least eight months of the preceding year, as a guide to the members in voting the Estimates.

In this Colony the accounts are only brought down to the end of 1866, and,

we a k, what intelligent light can a statement of the extraordinary expenditure and sinful waste of 1866 throw upon the probable expenditure of 1868, when wiser counsels and more economic ideas prevail?

It is absurd to suppose that the statement can be of the least service to the honorable members. With a large staff of secretaries and clerks, there can be no

excuse for not having the financial statement for 1867 ready to lay before the Council simultaneously with the Estimates

THE LAMENTABLE OCCURRENCE AT CAD-BORO BAY .- The inquest on the body of the young woman found at that secluded spot on Tuesday was held at the Police Court yesterday, Mr C A Bayley acting as Foreman of the Jury. The first witness examined was William Booth. He resided on the Esquimalt road; had seen the body of the deceased: knew it to be that of Martha Ann Booth, his daughter; saw her last on Sunday, between 7 and 8 o'clock in the morning appeared then quite contented and comfortable in mind; afterwards went to Saanich; no person was at home at time deceased left but her mother and a little girl; must have left between 10 and 11 o'clock; could assign no reason for such an act; had no suspicion of foul treatment; had observed a strangeness of madder for the Months of more ; iss deceased read a great many novels, and when alone he often f und her laughing vooiferously; when he asked what she was laughing at she always replied, 'Nothing, father, nothing'; the deceased had no acquaintance at Cadboro ; did not know of any man paying his addresses to her; knew of no attempt at poison; often asked her why she did not go to church, when she invariably replied that everybody was above her, and she did not care about going on that account. Benjamin Evans saw the deceased pass his house near Cadboro Bay, walking rapidly; wondered who she was, as there was no one with or following her; could not see the face owing to the green vail she wore; had no doubt of the body he had just seen being that of the young woman he saw yesterday. Indian Jack deposed to finding the body in the water and to telling Mr Tod, who returned with him to recover it. The Court then adjourned till I o'clock on Tuesday, between which time a post mortem examination will be held and the whole matter thoroughly sifted by the police. The funeral of the un-WANTED, A DOG KILLER -The City Council have levied a tax of $2 50 per annum on all dogs kept within the city limits, and a number of the owners of canines have come forward, paid the required tex and received a to be worn by the animal. But by far the largest proportion of owners have not paid the tax, and their dogs prowl through the city and suburbs in evident contempt of the bye-law, the Corporation and tag-wearing dogs generally. The good citizen who has discharged the liability naturally protests against the immunity which the animals belonging to those persons who pay no tax enjoy, and demand that the bye-law be enforced. They are right. If a dog is worth keeping he is worth paying for, and $2 50 is letting the owner of most of the nightdisturbing brutes off cheaply. The only obstacle in the way of the enforcement of the law is the want of a dog-killer. Somebody is wanted to assert the majesty of the bye-law for destroying our surplus canine population. Who'wai volunteer?

fortunate young lady will take place to-day.

TRANQUILLE RIVER .- There are some twenty-five men mining on this river. Incy make from two to five dollars a day. Messrs Mackintosh & Fortune are building a saw mill and a grist mill. The stones for the grist mill are expected to arrive soon, and the machinery is being made at Victoria Those mile will supply the wants of the Thompson river and lake country, and are much needed for farming and mining operations. At present the farmers at Kamlooms and beyond Savona's ferry generally have to take their grain in boats to the ferry, and thence by wagon to Cornwall's and back again by the same expensive modes of conveyance. The settlers about Kamloops and the North river are much encouraged, and several parties have located farming land in consequence of the projected grat mill .-

FROM OSOYOOS TO YALE .- Mr Frank Greatzer asrived in Yale on the 11th inst. from Osoyoos by way of the Okanagan lake and Thompson river. He left Osoyoos on the 20th ult. He did not bring any news of " Victoria R." importance. Some miners at Rock Creek were getting out lumber for mining purposes. The Okanagan lake was frozen over, but fine weather had set in and the ice was breaking up near the Mission. The farmers in the Mission valley had commenced plough ing. Mesers. Ellis and Macdonald had three hundred head of cattle, which had wintered well. Mr G found all the packers in comfortable cabins, where they had wintered and the stock looked fine. The new grass was six to eight inches high. Chas Penry and C McCallum were busy getting ready with their train for Yale to commence business .- Examiner.

FOUND .- Rev. Mr Speke has been found at Padstow, in Cornwall, alive and physically well, but mentally wrecked. He went away from London for the purpose, as he says, "to get to a country where nobody knew him, to labor for his living and preach the gospel to his fellow-working man." Since the Road murder, in 1860, no event has so stirred the public mind as the mysterious disappearance the house was again well filled with the best elements of our society to greet Miss Stone on her second appearance last night. The opening and closing of the piece presented some scenes and some passages of acting that we have no right to have excelled in all that is truthful, pure and natural, except by preeminent talent and in a first-class theatre We all know how scenic embellishments aid the senses to grasp and to feel the niceties of an emotional piece such as the Pearl of Sa voy, and our wonder is that Miss Stone, deprived of these necessary adjuncts, can make her power felt as she has done these last two nights. The piece, with some trival excep tions, we contend was well put on the stage and where all discharged their obligations so ably it would be invidious to single out a few for particular praise. We shall have occasion before the company close their engage ment to be more particular in our criticisms.

OVEREND, GURNEY & Co .- The winding up of this business is nearly completed. The liquidators state that there is a balance of only £1,062,000 sterling now to pay £18,-700,000, the amount due when the failures occurred. The creditors are paid in full The unhappy shareholders find themselves in a different position. Of these shareholders there were 2,219. Only 43 of them have through the calls made upon them, become bankrupt. But 151 have declared themselves unable to pay up in full, and 40 have gone to the continent for their health withou leaving their address. One is almost ready to think it is ticklish business being a bank shareholder, after all the experience of the last few years on both sides of the Atlantic.

IMPORTANT TO BANKERS .- The Court of Gueda & Delich, Loudbh, has Usertica and post-dated check payable on demand is valid. The custom of bankers, the world over, we believe, has been to refuse payment ot post dated checks. In the case just decided, suit was brought against a banking firm by a depositor to recover damages sustained through the refusal of the defendants to pay a post dated check. The defence set up as a plea the custom among bankers, and succeeded in proving that the custom was universal thereby escaping payment of damages.

AUSTRALIAN NUGGETS. - A Liverpool pa per, quoting a private letter to that town, speaks of two nuggets being picked up few months ago on the surface at King's Plains, one weighing 58 oz., the other 11 oz. and together worth $1180. These plains, we believe, have been grassed for years; and it seems strange that such pretty little pebbles thus exposed on the surface, should have been overlooked so long. Yet the same thing occurs in all gold countries.

THE Examiner, lately published at New Westminster, has appeared at Yale. The Examiner was always a good paper, and the necessity for its removal speaks poorly for the taste of the people of New Westminster who suffered so respectable a sheet to leave them-We wish our esteemed cotemporary a long and prosperous career in its new field of labor.

THE GEORGE S. WRIGHT .- A despatch from Mr Tarbell states that this steamer will leave Portland to-morrow afternoon for Victoria. ELOPEMENT OF A CHRISTIAN WITH A JEWESS .- The Liverpool Courier says :-The married experiences of a young couple from Cardiff have suddenly been cut short through the awkward interference of the police, under the following circumstances: - The bridegroom was a sailor of the name of Richard Peak, of the Christain religion; while the bride, bearing the name of Janet Levi, was of the Hebrew persusion. Both parties resided in Cardiff, the fair lady being the daughter of a wealthy jeweler in that port. For some considerable time, according to the girl's story, the gallant tar had courted his loved, but Levi pere set his face against the proposed match with unaltered determination, would hear of no intermarriage with the alien. Love, however, which defles locksmiths, and surmounts every difficulty, however hard, would have its way: and it was arranged between the pair that they should steal a march upon the old man—it is not said whether, at the time of this arrangement, they agreed to steal anything else. however, carried out their purpose. They were privately married in Cardiff early ne morning, and immediately took train for Liverpool, where they expected to arrive in safety, and then proceed to other parts. Unfortunately for them, the electric wire is ever sending tidings from point to point, and the flight of the couple having been ascertained, and Mr Levi having missed a gold watch and a number of other articles, he communicated with the police, who telegraphed to Liverpool, and a detective was at once told off to the duty of waiting the arrival of the train at Lime street Station. The train reached the station at about a quarter past nine o'clock p.m., and, sure enough, it contained the missing pair. When searched, there were found upon them a gold watch, several articles of jewelsy, and £60 in money, and the veritable cer tificate of the marriage, which had been contracted that morning in Cardiff. The girl maintains that the watch is hers, and that this prosecution has arisen through the spite of her family against her husband. DONE ENOUGH FOR HIS COUNTRY. A evolutionary soldier in America was revolutionary soldier in America was running for Congress, and his opponent was a young man who had "never been to the wars," and it was the custom of the old soldier to tell of the hardships he had endured. Said he, "Fellow citizens, I have fought and bled for my country. I have slept on the field of battle with no other covering than the canopy of heaven. I have walked over the frozen ground till eigns," who had become greatly interested in his tale of sufferings, walked up in front of the speaker, wiped the tears from his eyes with the extremity of his coattail, and interrupted him with, "Did you sny you had fout the British and Ingins?'

"Yes, sir." "Did you say you had slept on the ground, while serving your country, without any kiver?" "I did." "Did plied the speaker, exultingly. "Wel-then," said the tearful citizen, as he gave a sigh of pent up emotion, "I guess I'll vote for t'other fellow, for I'll be darned if you haint done enough for your

A terrible story reaches us from Italy A Lombard peasant left his home some years ago to try his fortune in the western Eldorado. After the usual ups and downs incident to the life of the emigrant he found himself the possessor of a net sum 40,000f, after calculating the cost of his return to his native land In Italy he soon learned that his 2,000 gold pieces were worth 45,000f in paper at the aute of 12½ per cent, and lost no time in nging them for notes of the National Bank, He was living in Narese, and when he had bartered his Napoleonsmarengos they call them in Upper Italy —for Government paper, he laid his wealth upon a table and sallied forth, leaving a little child at play in his room. When he returned home he found his hard-earned fortune a mere smouldering heap of ashes upon his own hearth. The child, for want of some better amusement, had flung the pile of notes into the fire.

AN HONEST CHATBREE, -An abecdots worth laughing over is told of a man who had an infirmity as well as an appetite for fish. He was anxious to keep up his character for honesty, even while making a bill with his merchant, as the story goes, and when his back was turned the honest buyer slipped a codfish up under his coat-tail. But the garment was too short to cover the theft, and the merchant perceived it. "Now," said the customer, anxious to improve all the opportunities to call attention to his virtues," Merchant, I have traded with you a great deal, and have paid you up promptly and honestly, haven't I?" "Ob, yes," answered the merchant, "I have no com-plaint." "Well," said the customer, "I always insisted that honesty was the best policy, and the best rule to live and die by." "That's so," replied the merchant, and the customer turned to depart. "Hold on, friend!" cried the merchant, "Speaking of honesty, I have a bit of advice to give you. Whenever you come advice to give you. Whenever you come to trade again, you had better wear a longer coat or steal a shorter codfish."

A special correspondent accompanying the expedition furnishes army news dated at Anatolo, on the 15th of February, forwarded to London by telegram from Suez dated on the 28th ult. He states that the advance of the British army was within fifteen days' march of Magdala. Gen. Napier met Kassa; the Tiger chief, on the 20th February. The chief made an offer of peace with the British for himself and his people, which was accepted by the English commander. This important proceeding was followed by a grand army review, at which Kassai, and other warriors attended. Colonel Mereweather, of the English army, had previously treated an envoy of Kassai uncourteously and the peace was doubtful. The enemy (King's troops) shot some stragglers from the Queen's loree and also put to death six Arabs. The bodies of an the dead were mutilated in the barbarous manner customutilated in the Darontous in time of war, mary with the Abyssinians in time of war. Three British officers were missing. The correspondent also reports that King Theod-orus was advancing from his camp at the head of 30 000 soldiers; but he marched only three miles each day. Menelek, supported by others chiefs, was said to have invested the royal stronghold of Magdala with 40,000

THE Vienna papers published an account of the dinner given by the King of Hanover, on Tuesday, in celebration of 25th anniversary of his marriage. They state that in the toast his Majesty proposed he returned thanks to those who had come from a distance to be present at this family meeting, held to show the intimate connection of the house of Guelph and the Hanoverian people. He entertained the conviction that he should return to Hanover as a free King. His ancestors had been compelled to leave the country, but found upon their return a larger Guelphi Providence justified him in kingdom. belief that he too would go back to the country as a free and independent Sovereign. His Majesty concluded with drinking prosperity to Hanover, and a speedy reunion in the land of the Guelphs. The dinner was attended exclusively by Hanoverians.

THOMAS MITCHELL, an eccentric old Scotch minister, in praying once for suitable harvest weather, expressed himself thus:—"O Lord, gie us nane o' your rantin', tantin', tearin' winds, but a thun-nerin', dunnerin', dryin' wind."

Royal Artillery.—Holloway's Ointment and Pills.—A serjeant in the Royal Artillery writes, on December 12th, 1862, from Poonamattee. Madras Presidency, that his right leg, from the ankle to the cell, was a quagmire of disease and corruption that he was on the hospital roll for twelve months without any improvement in his case; that he, as a forlorn hope, resolved to try Holloway's cilebrated Ointre et and Pills. These soon gave ease, expelled the bad humours from the limb, healed the apparently incurable sore, and restored him to sound health. Soldiers and sailors are earnestly recommended to have recourse to these invaluable medicaments for curing old wounds, sores, or ulcers—more particularly when they have arisen from imprudence, and old wounds, sorcs, or ulcers—more particularly when they have arisen from imprudence, and seem incurable.

PIMPLES, BLOTCHES,

and roughness of the skin generally arise from depraved or vitiated humors. Bristol's Sarsaparilla is the best of all known purifiers of the blood and humors. This unfailing detergent neutralizes the poison, and occasional doses of Bristol's Sugarcoated Pills, taken at same time purge out the unhealthy secretions, insuring a smooth, white, soft skin.

French Medicines

PREPARED BY

GRIMAULT&CO.

Chemists to H.I.P. Prince Napoleon,

PARIS.

THESE different medicines represent the most recen nedical disoveries, founded on the principles of Chemistry and Therapeutics. They must not be confounded with secret or quack medicines, as their names suffici ently indicate their composition; a circumstance which has caused them to be appreciated and prescribed by the Faculty in the whole world. They widely differ from those numerous medicines advertised in the public papers as acle to cure every possible disease, as they are plicable only to but a very few complaints. The mos stringent laws exist in France with regard to the sale of nealcal preparations, and only those which have under-one an examination by the Academy of Medicine and have been proved efficacious, either in the hospital or in the practice of the first medicalmen, are authorised by the Government. This fact must be a guarantee for the excellence of Messrs. Grimault et Co.'s Medi-
